Artisty   live site | github

HTML5 , SCSS , JavaScript, React / Redux, Ruby on Rails, Node.js, postgreSQL, Heroku, AWS, Webpack

A full-stack, single-page app clone of Etsy that promotes different artists and their works.

- Implemented CRUD functionality to allow for real-time user input through reviews and the shopping cart
- Leveraged a Rails backend using JSON API requests with JBuilder to manage state in React
- Integrated SCSS mixins to implement consistent styling for efficient and DRY code

Feline Fever   live site | github

HTML5, CSS3, Vanilla JavaScript, postgreSQL, Webpack

An interactive rhythm game that features Felix the Cat, who wants to be the best dancer there ever was.

- Built animations using requestAnimationFrame and delta time, improving the falling sequence of the arrows
- Employed HTML5 Canvas to render a background image with falling arrows, utilizing various DOM event listeners to make the game more interactive

PharmAssist   live site | github

HTML5, SCSS, JavaScript, React / Redux, Mongoose, MongoDB, Node.js, Express.js, Heroku, Webpack

A MERN stack medication scheduler that allows users to keep track of their prescribed regimen through an interactive calendar, along with a map of nearby pharmacies.

- Applied CSS animations using keyframes to enhance user interface
- Constructed a search bar using the Prescribable RxNorm API to obtain generic and brand medication names
- Collaborated with other software engineers, advising on frontend functionality and visual design
